Recommendation:

It is recommended that the London Public Library Board:

- Receive this report.

Background and Review

The London Public Library, as an employer, operates under the requirements of the Ontario Occupational Health and Safety Act, R.S.O. 1990, Chapter O.1 (the "Act"), which requires at least an annual review of the institution's health and safety policies.

Each year the Library Board affirms its commitment to providing a safe and healthy environment for its staff, volunteers and patrons through the affirmation of the high level Health and Safety Commitment Statement. The following policies are also reviewed annually by the Board, as required under the Act:

- Workplace Harassment Prevention Policy, and
- Workplace Violence Prevention Policy.

The Library is committed to maintaining a well-developed and responsive health and safety program in the workplace, which includes various policies, procedural documents, guidelines, job aids and a training program. Library Management and the Library's Employees' Union CUPE Local 217 work together through the Joint Health & Safety Committee to conduct regular workplace inspections and to monitor and resolve workplace issues. Managers, supervisors and employees are trained in their responsibilities under the Act.

Training programs, procedures and guidelines are available to support staff in these and other areas related to workplace health and safety. Orientation is provided to new staff and ongoing refresher training is provided on a scheduled basis to all staff. In 2010, the Library established September as its Health & Safety training month in order to focus all staff on various aspects of health and safety. The program, held in September 2011, included training on fire inspections and evacuation procedures, WHMIS, workplace harassment and violence prevention.

Next Steps

As required under the Act, upon approval, the updated Health and Safety Commitment Statement will be posted in all work locations.
