Susanna,

Dear Ms. Hubbard Krimmer:

At United Way of London & Middlesex, we are committed to mobilizing our community to create change. That means that everyone in London and Middlesex has a voice in expressing what matters to them, and in coming together to make sure we can make a difference.

Launching today and through to November 30, 2009, United Way is creating an interactive way to listen to our community. ThinkCommunity.ca is our way to seek thought donations about issues that matter most in London and Middlesex.

Our success in reaching the community depends on outreach to residents in places where they are already engaged. We firmly believe that libraries play such a role in our communities.

We gratefully acknowledge the support and partnership of the London Public Library in advancing this initiative. Specifically, by offering in-kind space in various branches where residents can complete our survey. We also appreciate the opportunity to link library patrons using the Library website and public computers to find out about and complete the survey.

As we move forward, United Way is happy to make available the information gleaned from this process. Further, we would welcome the chance to follow up with the Library Board this spring to share our results.

Again, thank you for the continued spirit of partnership. Please continue to help us spread the word by visiting www.ThinkCommunity.ca and passing information along to friends, colleagues and neighbours.

Sincerely,

Andrew Lockie
