London Public Library Board
Historic Sites Committee

On behalf of myself and all our family and friends, I want to thank the members and staff of the Historic Sites Committee and the London Public Library Board - for honouring my mother, Margaret Fullerton, with a plaque erected at City Hall - last Friday, December 7, 2007. It was truly a momentous occasion to be treasured always.

We are all so pleased that her accomplishments have been remembered in this way.

Sincerely,
Jean Dorey.
