

Email to London Public Library, February 25, 2008

Maryliz,

This quick email is to thank you and the entire team at the London Library for such a warm hospitality. It was, indeed, my pleasure to have been a part of your 7th Annual Employment Forum, and I thank you so much for all the support prior to and up to the end of the event.

I would like to also say that I am impressed with the role the library is playing in assisting jobseekers and, of course, new immigrants. Patrick has said so many times since we are back that he was so impressed with the Library and its services. This is coming from someone who has always loved libraries and see them as the best places to find information. You are all doing a fantastic job. I am sure our library here in Brampton could emulate many of what you are all doing.

Again, thanks very much for everything. While I cannot remember all the names, please relay my gratitude to your CEO, every member of your team and all the people I met.

I'll be in touch with you again.

Daisy
